Eat, Drink and Be Merry

An outstanding wine list and tiramisu are just the finishing touches on what will no doubt be an outstanding Italian feast. Primavista offers a stunning view of the Cincinnati skyline and Ohio River.

Located in Blue Ash, the sign on the door at Marx Hot Bagels says, "This is not a restaurant, this is an experience!" And it certainly is an experience in bagelry! You'll find every imaginable variety of bagel with any type of filling you choose. Jalapeño, chocolate chip or tropical fruit bagels are available, along with generous servings of flavored cream cheeses, eggs and PB&J. There are three locations in the Cincinnati area: our favorite is this Blue Ash location, which comes with an extra side dish of attitude from the tough-as-nails staff.

Take a Breath of Fresh Air

Located in Mount Adams, the Krohn Conservatory features palm, tropical, desert and orchid houses, all filled with an abundance of horticultural life. There is a butterfly display in the summer and a live Nativity scene at Christmas, making it an outstanding place for kids. It's also an outstanding place for grown-ups to wander, breathe in the scenery and reboot after a long day.

Shop Till You Drop

Cincinnati Mills is a shopping destination that includes both outlet stores and traditional retail stores. You can take in a movie at one of the two theaters and have a bite to eat at one of the many restaurants after wandering stores that contain everything from arts and crafts to books, clothing, cosmetics and more. Conveniently located at exit 39 off I-275.

You'll find Hyde Park Square at the corner of Erie and Edward streets. The location boasts a wealth of restaurants, shops and art galleries, in addition to coffee shops, bookstores and a variety of other retail destinations.
