- Country Inn & Suites By Carlson, Cortland, NY – 34 miles from downtown
- Country Inn & Suites By Carlson Big Flats – 35 miles from downtown

Robert H. Treman State Park	Mom's Choice: You have your choice of unbelievably beautiful waterfalls and cascading rapids, but few parks offer the chance to swim and get soaked at a spot like Enfield Glen, a waterfall that is safe enough for the whole family to enjoy. Gorges and trails reveal a handful of sinfully delightful sights – like Lucifer Falls and Devil's Kitchen. Bring a picnic and spend all day enjoying the scenery of this fantastic park. Admission is $7 per vehicle starting July 1.	http://nysparks.state.ny.us/parks/135/details.aspx
Ithaca Farmers Market	Mom's Choice: With more than 150 vendors at this outdoor venue, your family can eat healthy while enjoying Binoculars Country. Open every weekend from spring through fall, the Farmer's Market is the 'unofficial' meeting place for locals to visit and purchase the freshest fruits, vegetables and produce in the region. Try the peanut noodles from Macro Mama or the Balep Korkun from Tibetan Food. Lots of live music throughout the summer, admission is free and the produce prices can't be beat.	http://www.ithacamarket.com/
Galaxy Golf @ the Sciencenter	Combining miniature golf with science, Galaxy Golf takes putting to a whole new level – check that - a whole new universe! Applying scientific principles with every stroke, your family won't notice how much they're learning, because they'll be too busy having fun. A round of golf runs $4 per person.	http://www.sciencenter.org
Allison's Acres	Just eight miles north of Ithaca in Trumansburg, Allison's Acres features bushels of fruitful delights for families. Pick your own strawberries, let the kids burn off some energy in the play area, then simply enjoy the freshest berries your hands can grab! Picking season starts June 19.	http://www.allisonsacres.com
Moosewood Restaurant	Focusing on healthful, natural cuisines, Moosewood celebrates three decades of delicious dishes that helped drive the vegetarian dining culture. Pick up one of founder Molly Katzen's best selling cookbooks to take home. Dishes range from $15-$20.	http://www.moosewoodrestaurant.com
